Re: Tom Fox

I attended Langley Hill pretty regularly from sometime in the early nineties until I moved to Denver in 2000.

I was new to Quakerism at that time (and feel I still am) and was in a great deal of personal pain. During that time the brave quietness, strength and gentleness of everyone at Langley Hill carried me along. Among those people who were kind and caring (perhaps without being aware of how they touched my life) was Tom Fox. I did not make the connection between the Tom I knew and the peace makers held hostage in Iraq until I heard about his tragic death.

I am hopeful you can find a way to use this donation in a way that would have mattered to Tom.

Thank you all.
